I. Sustainable Finance Transparency

This Information Statement has been prepared by the Company for the purpose of meeting the disclosure requirements in Articles 5 of the Sustainable Finance Disclosures Regulation (Regulation (EU) 2019/2088), ("SFDR") that is, specifically, the disclosure requirements applicable to the Company with regard to how the Company's Remuneration Policy is consistent with the Integration of Sustainability Risks.

II. Approach to Sustainable Investment

At Northern Trust, we believe that investors, and asset managers that invest on their behalf, have a responsibility to make their investments in a way that effectively supports a sustainable society.

At the core of our commitment to help our clients achieve their financial objectives is a conviction that this can be achieved by investing responsibly.

We value the importance of integrating Environmental, Social, and Governance ("ESG") factors into our investment and risk processes and fundamentally believe that this is aligned with the aim of achieving long-term positive financial performance for our investors. We also recognise and value the fact that this will also support the better functioning of companies we invest in, enhancing behaviour in a wide range of markets and industries and having a positive societal impact beyond the financial markets.

III. What is a Sustainability Risk?

In this context, a sustainability risk is considered to be an environmental, social or governance event or condition that, if it occurs, could cause an actual or potential material negative impact on the value of an investment.

Information on How Our Remuneration Policy is Consistent with the Integration of Sustainability Risks

Regulatory Requirements in relation to our Remuneration Policy

The Company is required to ensure that its remuneration arrangements are such that they do not circumvent the remuneration rules set out in the European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations, 2011 (S.I. No. 352 of 2011), as amended, consolidated or substituted from time to time (the "UCITS Regulations") and related regulatory guidance.

The Company has a remuneration policy in place (the "Remuneration Policy") to outline how it adheres to the remuneration requirements set out in the UCITS Regulations and to demonstrate how it has established and applied remuneration policies and practices that are consistent with, and promote, sound and effective risk management.

Scope of Remuneration

Remuneration, for these purposes, consists of all forms of payments or benefits made directly by, or indirectly, but on behalf of the Company, in exchange for professional services rendered by individuals at the Company who have a material impact on the risk profiles of the Funds or, where relevant, the Segregated Mandates ("Identified Staff").

Fixed Compensation: Base salaries provide an externally competitive level of fixed compensation in the form of cash paid on a monthly basis, reflecting each employee's position, experience, qualifications, and tenure.

Benefits: Provide competitive levels of welfare security for Northern Trust partners and their families. In addition, the retirement programs provide post-employment financial security.

Variable Compensation: This is based on a combination of the assessment of the overall results of the group, performance of the business unit and the individual concerned.

Variable Compensation

Variable compensation is an important tool to incentivise staff. It also gives the Company flexibility such that, discretionary variable pay pool adjustments can be made to take into account the quality of performance achievement for financial metrics or risk-taking relative to and within established risk tolerances and changes in the external environment and the capital of the Company can be preserved.

In deciding the mix between fixed and variable compensation of Identified Staff, the Company is mindful of the need to ensure that the basic pay of staff is adequate to remunerate the professional services rendered taking into account, inter alia, the level of education, the degree of seniority, the level and expertise and skills required.

Remuneration Process

The factors that may be taken into account in deciding the quantum of the variable compensation in any given period include:

- achievement against objectives relative to the particular role of the individual and whether the individual met or exceeded what was expected of them during the year;
- Company performance and the performance of the Funds or, where relevant, the Segregated Mandates; and
- compliance by the individual with all relevant compliance and risk requirements and other policies and procedures.

In addition, and specifically in consideration of how the Companies integrate the consideration of sustainability risks into the remuneration process, the following factor is also taken into account:

- the extent to which the individual has (i) embodied the principles; and (ii) adhered to the fundamental process based elements;

It is recognised, in relation to each of the factors listed above that these factors may be considered and applied subjectively to an individual, dependent on their role within the Company.

Finally, as an overriding and discretionary factor, the Company will ultimately be mindful of the need to ensure that the remuneration policy promotes sound and effective risk management, does not encourage risk taking that is inconsistent with the risk profiles of the Funds or, where relevant, the Segregated Mandates, and is consistent with the Company's approach to the integration of sustainability risks.

Variable compensation awards must in all cases be aligned with the Company's business strategy, objectives, core values, ESG principles and the best interests of the Company.
